ABOUT ME

I am a jewelry designer with an Indian decent, grown up in United Arab Emirates and studied in India and Italy. The experiences that I have gained while living in these different cities and within different cultures have shaped my approach to design and enriched my creative process.

My interest lies in creating contemporary jewelry, with an aim to instill intention behind every aspect, from the designs to the production processes of my work. I have a keen approach towards unknown knowledge and skills as an opportunity for learning and utilizing it in different ways.

My immediate goals are to gain valuable experiences by contributing my unique set of knowledge, skills, and creativity when working for brands and jewelry designers.
